

Editor's Disclosure of Financial Conflict of Interest

General Instructions

- This form will be completed annually and posted on the Annals of Family Medicine website. It is required for editorial decision-makers (Editor, Associate Editors, Statistical Editor, Reflections Editor, Innovation Editor, and Fellows) and members of their immediate family.
- Please disclose relevant financial information if it exceeds $1,000. You are not required to disclose amounts less than $1,000.
- You are not required to disclose information that is more than five years old.
- This form pertains to potential financial conflict of interest only. Editors should disclose non-financial competing interests (e.g., personal/professional relationships or personal values that could potentially interfere with their editorial judgment and function) as they arise on an individual manuscript basis.
- Please complete, sign, and date this form and return to AnnFamMed@annfammed.org.

Background

"Editors should avoid making decisions on manuscripts that conflict with their own interest, such as those submitted from their department or by research collaborators, co-authors (in the case of collaborators or co-authors for the past five years, competitors, or those addressing an issue in which they stand to gain financially, e.g., stock in a company whose product is discussed in the article). If they may have a perceived or actual conflict of interest, editors should delegate handling of any decision to other editors with decision-making responsibility."

-Council of Science Editors Whitepaper on Promoting Integrity in Scientific Journal Publications, 2024

Disclosure

On the next page, please list all financial relationships (amounts of $1,000 or more) that could potentially influence, or present the perception of influence, in your decision-making about Annals articles. Please report on financial relationships for you and members of your immediate family for the past five years. These may include but are not limited to:

- salary
- consulting fees
- research grants from an organization with an interest in the research results
- honoraria
- stock or equity interests (other than mutual funds)
- expert testimony

• intellectual property rights, e.g., patents, royalties, and copyrights. If you have no such relationships to disclose, please so state.

Editor's Disclosure of Financial Conflict of Interest

DISCLOSURES:

Employment:

Full time employee, Chief of Service/Family Medicine: Care New England / Kent Hospital (CNE); Professor of Medicine: The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University; Chief of Service / Family Medicine: Miriam Hospital / Brown University Health; Emeritus Faculty: University of Michigan Medical School, Dept of Family Medicine (UMich).

Editor / Annals of Family Medicine: Funded by the Annals of Family Medicine, Inc. in partnership with AAFP, ADFM, STFM, etc.

Current Federally funded research grants with funded research effort through CNE or UMich:Multiple / NIH, DOD, VA $\end{tabular}$

Current industry sponsored research grants with funded research effort: Paid consultant/co-author on Coordinate Diabetes (designed and conducted by the Duke Clinical Research Institute, Durham, NC; funding was provided by Boehringer Ingelheim Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (BIPI) and Lilly USA, LLC).

Recently Completed Research Grants:Diabetes related research grants (Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan, Twin Consulting, Neilson Foundation).

Boards for Nonprofits:Board member: Integra, CNE-MG, CTC-RI

Professional Associations:American Diabetes Association: Committee member, leadership role, in-person and webinar speaker;paid educational content reviewer*; ADA Primary Care Interest Group; Heart failure and Diabetes; Liver disease and diabetes; Kidney disease and diabetes

Dexcom: Paid advisor (re: using cgm in pre-diabetes patients) *

*Paid work outside of CNE/Kent Hospital primary employment for < $1,000 / year.

— DocuSigned by: Caroline K. Kichardson, MD

Caroline R. Richardson, MD

02/17/2025 | 1:06 PM PST

[Use next page if needed]

[Use this page if needed]